

Tuition fees and examination fees 2025-2026

The tuition fees will be adjusted if changes in legislation require this.

Version 2.0

STATUTORY TUITION FEES FOR FUNDED STUDY PROGRAMMES

Reduced statutory tuition fee

From 2025-2026, the reduction of the statutory tuition fee for students in a teacher training programme will cease to apply.

Full-time study programmes

In 2025-2026, the statutory tuition fee for a funded full-time study programme will be €2,601. An exception to this is the full-time Hospitality Management programme, for which the fee will be €4,100. The Higher Education (Quality in Diversity) Act (Wet kwaliteit in verscheidenheid) allows for tuition fee differentiation for study programmes designated as 'small-scale and intensive education' by the Accreditation Organisation of the Netherlands and Flanders (NVAO).

Part-time study programmes

In 2025-2026, the statutory tuition fee for a funded part-time study programme will be €2,390.

The statutory tuition fee for part-time study programmes was raised in 2021-2022. A transitional scheme applies for current part-time students. This concerns students who started their current study programme in 2020-2021 or earlier and who have been enrolled in this programme without interruption. The transitional scheme ceases to apply if a student switches study programmes. In 2025-2026, the transition fee will be €2,010.

The transitional scheme applies for a maximum of five years and will terminate after 2025-2026. If the transitional scheme applies to you and you are forced to interrupt your enrolment for more than one academic year due to illness, you can submit a request to the dean of the school to be eligible to pay the transitional rate again.

Dual study programmes

In 2025-2026, the statutory tuition fee for a funded dual study programme will be €2,601.

INSTITUTIONAL TUITION FEES FOR FUNDED STUDY PROGRAMMES

If you do not meet the conditions set out in Chapter 6, Article 6.1, paragraphs 1 and 2, of the Regulations on admission, enrolment and deregistration, this institutional tuition fee will apply.

The institutional tuition fees for funded bachelor's programmes and master's programmes depend on the rate group a study programme is assigned to. The rate groups for 2025-2025 are as follows:

Low	€9,850
High	€11,850
Top	€13,450

The institutional tuition fees have been indexed at 2,8% in accordance with the indexation of the statutory tuition fee set by the Ministry of Education, Culture and Science. The categorisation of study programmes into rate groups is shown in the table on the following page.

Students of the Bachelor Music, the Bachelor Music in Education and the Master in Music paid the top rate through to 2023-2024. As of 2024-2025, these students will pay the high rate. Current students of the Bachelor Music, the Bachelor Education in Music and the Master's in Music who paid the top rate in 2023-2024 will also be paying the top rate from 1 September 2024.

Through to 2025-2026, a transitional scheme will apply for Music students who began their study programme in 2020-2021 or earlier and who remain enrolled in the programme without interruption. These students will pay the transitional rate of €9,850 in 2025-2026. This transitional scheme ceases to apply if a student switches study programmes.

Students with Ukrainian nationality

Students with Ukrainian nationality who were enrolled in the academic year 2022-2023 and who paid their statutory tuition fees to Zuyd University of Applied Sciences or another Dutch institution of higher education are eligible for a reduced institutional fee equal to the statutory tuition fee for the rest of the consecutive nominal duration of the study programme.

This reduction of the institutional fee to the statutory tuition fee for the rest of the consecutive nominal duration of the study programme, also applies to course members with Ukrainian nationality who were enrolled in the Zuyd Prebachelor programme in the academic year 2022-2023 and started a Bachelor study programme at Zuyd University of Applied Sciences in the academic year 2023-2024.

INSTITUTIONAL TUITION FEES FOR NON-FUNDED STUDY PROGRAMMES

Full-time study programmes

The institutional tuition fees for non-funded full-time study programme are as follows:

- a. €12,500 for the Master's in Facility and Real Estate Management (abbreviated FREM); this tuition fee covers the full two-year duration of this programme. The tuition fee is inclusive of the fees payable to the University of Greenwich.
 1. The one-year programme is capped off by the final thesis. If the submitted final thesis is given a fail mark, the student will be entitled to improve the thesis and resubmit it within two months without being required to pay an additional tuition fee. If the resubmitted thesis is given a fail mark, the student will be entitled to a third and fourth opportunity with the option to either submit a new thesis or another improved version of the original thesis. In both cases, the student will be required pay an additional tuition fee of €2,900 for these resubmission opportunities.
 2. FREM Master's students can compete for one of ten available FREM Master's Scholarships. All students admitted to the FREM Master's will receive an email from the study programme detailing the application process for the FREM Master's Scholarships for 2025-2026, which will be provided to the ten best candidates. The Scholarship entails a reduction of the tuition fee by €1,500.
 3. For the FREM Master's, there is no full or partial refund of tuition fees if students terminate their enrolment after 1 October. Students who leave the study programme between 1 September and 1 October will pay €2,700 to cover the fees payable to the University of Greenwich and administrative costs. They will be refunded the remainder of the tuition fees already paid.
 4. Students who have already been enrolled in the FREM Master for two academic years and wish to enrol for a third or subsequent academic year will be required to pay a fee of €2,601 per academic year in accordance with the statutory tuition fee.
- b. €13,360 for the Master's in Scientific Illustration.

Part-time study programmes

The institutional tuition fees for non-funded part-time study programmes are as follows:

- a. €26,266 for the Master's in Personal Leadership in Innovation and Change (PLIC).
Due to the modular structure of this study programme, students follow most of the programme by enrolling as a course participant. Those wishing to follow the Masterpiece Master Class must enrol as a student to enable their registration as a student in BRON-HO. There is a 10% discount for Zuyd alumni and employees.
